The Potomac Fair.
The Potomac fair will not be abandoned this year, as stated in an unreliable evening paper, but will be held as usual in September on the association's grounds at Potomac, this county. The fair will be held September 14 and 15, and the state fair or Omaha exposition will not handicap its attractions in the least.

He took to the Hills.
Harry Voitle, a young man of the South Side, who has managed to get himself in trouble on two or three occasions in the past year, was wanted by the police yesterday for a forgery charge. Officer Dudley went after him, but Voitle saw the officer coming and took over the hills for Marshall county, starting from the base of the Mozart park incline. Voitle hadn't been caught last night.

A Novel Trip, This.
Commodore Sam Collins, of Colonel Sam Black port No. 59, G. A. R., of Mc-Keesport, has made all arrangements for his trip to Cincinnati in a skiff during the national encampment. He will be accompanied by Commander Andy Robinson, Robert Robinson, S. Heath and several other G. A. R. men of Mc-Keesport. The big skiff has been covered with a canvas with a streamer on each side. It has been named "Hobson," in honor of the hero of the Merrimac. The party will leave McKeesport next Saturday morning at 10 o'clock and will reach Cincinnati on Monday, September 5.

HE IS ARRESTED.

John Brown, a Bridgeport Man, Faces a Serious Charge.

ASSAULTED AN ISLAND GIRL.

WHO WAS PICKING BERRIES ON THE HILL BACK OF BRIDGE-PORT YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.
THE GIRL'S SCREAMS AND THE CRIES OF HER COMPANIONS FRIGHTENED THE MAN AWAY AFTER AN UNSUCCESSFUL AS-SAULT.

An unsuccessful attempt at criminal assault made yesterday afternoon upon an island girl, created a sensation on the Garden Spot last evening, and if it were not that the alleged perpetrator of the attempt is under arrest in another state it is likely he would have meted out to him justice that waits not for courts, judges and juries.

Yesterday afternoon, two island girls, Blanche Rutter, aged fifteen years, and Amelia Cramer, aged about twelve, went over to the Ohio side of the river berry-picking, and accompanied by two little boys. They passed through Bridgeport and Kirkwood and when near the Crystal glass works stopped to inquire of a man as to any good berry patches that he knew of in the vicinity.
John Brown, of Bridgeport, was this man. Brown is thirty years of age and single. He directed the party to a spot on the hillside above the glass works.
The girls and their younger boy companions went up the hillside and did find a berry patch. The party soon became separated just as they do on such expeditions. Suddenly, there was a rustling of the bushes near where Blanche Rutter was standing, and in an instant she was thrown to the ground, and Brown kneeling over her, threatened to kill her if she screamed. Fortunately, the girl did not heed the threat, and screamed with all the vigor she possessed. Then the alarm was taken up by the Cramer girl and by the two boys, and resulted in frightening Brown away after his unsuccessful attempt at criminal assault.
The news of the assault soon reached Bridgeport, through the two girls, who hastened home as soon as possible. The Bridgeport police got a good description of Brown and he was arrested last night. If it is proven he is the right man, he will not escape lightly, the Ohio law being very severe on such offenses.

A $5,000 FIRE DESTROYS

The Handsome Residence of Architect Charles P. Hamilton, at Pleasant Valley—A Defective Flue said to be the Cause.

There was a destructive fire in Pleasant Valley, one of Wheeling's eastern suburbs, yesterday morning at 7:20 o'clock, which caused a loss estimated at $5,000 to $6,000, with insurance for $3,800. The house burned was the handsome brick and frame residence of Architect Charles P. Hamilton, built upon the hillside near the Seibert Garden.

Mr. Hamilton was preparing to take the 8 o'clock motor to the city, when his son rushed in with the startling information that the house was on fire. The fire had started, it is supposed, from a defective flue between the joists on the upper story, and spread with frightful rapidity. Neighbors and workmen employed on the construction of the Elm Grove's electric line hastened to the scene and did everything possible to save Mr. Hamilton's furniture. It was seen that the house was doomed unless help arrived very soon, and when it was found that there was not enough hose for the Pleasant Valley department to be of service, it was realized that the house was already virtually destroyed.
A telephone message was sent to Chief Kileves, asking for help. The chief went out on the Vigilant engine, but of course did not arrive in time to save the building or a part of it. The insurance amounts to $3,800, of which $2,000 on the house is in the Peabody, of Wheelin, and $800 on furniture in Roller's agency.

The statement in the evening paper that the Pleasant Valley hose frequently burst is denied by the Pleasant Valley authorities. The reason the department could accomplish nothing was that there wasn't enough hose to reach from S. S. Bloch's residence to the burning building.

THE LIGHTNING STRUCK

Frank Krebs' House, on the South Side.
A Fire Followed.

Lightning struck the house at Thirty-eighth and Water streets, occupied by Frank Krebs, the hackman, about 6:55 o'clock last night. Some shingles were torn off the roof and part of the weatherboarding on one side of the house was carried away. A fire on the roof which followed the lightning's work was speedily extinguished by the Eighth ward firemen. The damage will not amount to much.

It is thought that the telephone wire which runs into the house attracted the lightning, as the part of the house wrecked followed the wire. The shock threw Mrs. Krebs across the dining room.

A similar shock was experienced by Will McElroy, who was holding the receiver of his 'phone in his drug store on Jacob street, near Thirty-eighth. His telephone and that of Henry Dannenberg on the same line were burned. No other damage from the lightning, which figured in a sudden thunder storm, is known to have occurred in the city.
